RECENT DEATHS.

Jones.
I. G. Jones died at his home at 3 Jones street at midnight, Friday, Mr. Jones was a resident of St. Johnsbury for 40 years and formerly was a member of the firm of Jones & Shields, furniture manufacturers. Mr. Jones was born in Salisbury, N. H., in 1841, and was of a family of eight brothers and sisters, all of whom are living.

He first came to St. Johnsbury in 1876 and in September, 1880 he married Miss Candace Ayer of that town.

Mr. Jones had been in poor health for over a year, though his condition has not until recently been serious. He leaves behind his brothers and sisters and his wife, Mrs. Candace Jones.

The funeral of I. G. Jones, one of St. Johnsbury's older citizens and business men, was held from his home at 3 Jones street, Monday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. George Martin, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. The interment was in the Mount Pleasant cemetery. There were many beautiful floral offerings from relatives and from friends in town.

The bearers were, E. C. Clark, R. B. Fields, George S. Wright and H. E. Stevens.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were as follows: E. J. Jones of Merrimack, N. H.; Lewis G. Brant and Miss Eva Jones of Manchester, N. H.; Alexander Blair of Beebe Plain, A. L.; Ingles of Lyndon and Ora Drew of North Danville.

Annette Phillips Randall.
Mrs. Annette Phillips Randall widow of Daniel B. Randall of Glover, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lincoln A. Pratt, 5 Bagley street, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Randall was born in Glover July 13, 1838, and lived there until she came to St. Johnsbury in the fall of 1915. On March 23, 1860, she was married to Mr. Randall, who died 31 years ago, July 22, 1887. Mrs. Randall has been an invalid for 11 years and for the last four years has been bed-ridden. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alice Atherton, of Dubuc, Iowa, a son, William R. of Williamstown, a daughter, Mrs. L. A. Pratt, and by three grandchildren, Mrs. Lena Randall Todd of St. Paul, Minn., Burleigh L. Pratt of Concord, Mass., and Ray Pratt of St. Johnsbury. Prayers were said at the house at 2 p. m., Friday. Burial was at Glover at 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon.

CLINIC AT BRIGHTLOOK.
Dr. R. W. Lovett of Boston speaks on Infantile Paralysis.

A clinic was held at the Brightlook hospital Sunday at which Dr. R. W. Lovett of the Children's hospital of Boston was present and spoke on infantile paralysis, the disease in which he is a noted specialist.

Many of the doctors of St. Johnsbury and vicinity were present. Twelve children who formerly had the disease and who were crippled because of it were brought before him for examination. In some cases he advised exercises as the best remedy for restoring the affected parts while in others he thought help could be procured by operating.

He took up many phases of this dangerous and very little known disease and gave illustrations from his own experiences with it.

Dr. Lovett came to St. Johnsbury from Barton where he was called to look over cases that he formerly treated when he went to Barton at the time the disease was raging in that town.

HUGHES TOUR OF 7000 MILES

Republican Nominee Will Start Active Campaign In August With a Trip Across the Continent to Pacific Coast

TO MAKE 12 SPEECHES
Altogether Five or Six Weeks Will Be Consumed Bringing Him Back East in the Latter Part of September For a "Whirlwind Campaign."

Bridgehampton, N. Y., July 2.—Charles E. Hughes probably will open his active presidential campaign the second week in August with a 7,000-mile trip to the Pacific coast and return. The nominee is considering a schedule that will provide for a dozen set speeches to be made at Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Paul or Minneapolis, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, possibly Los Angeles and several other cities in the territory traversed.

The program under consideration provides for a break of two weeks to be spent in the heart of the Rocky Mountains. This would afford Mr. Hughes an opportunity to enjoy his favorite pastime of mountain climbing.

Altogether the trip will take five to six weeks. It will bring him back to the east for a "whirlwind campaign" in the latter part of September.

All the chief issues will be discussed but there will be no rear platform speeches.

Reunion of 8th Vermont.
The Forty-second annual reunion of the Eighth Vermont Regimental Association will be held at Essex Junction, Thursday, July 13, at 10.30.

Dear Comrade:
The 43d annual meeting of the Society of the Army of the Potomac is to be held in Burlington, July 13 and 14, also a gathering of the National Guard Machine Gun Organizations, at Essex Junction, Thursday, July 13, at 10.30. The Vermont Regimental Association is to hold a reunion here on the same date, and the Commander of Department of Vermont G. A. R. has issued a call for a meeting of its members at this time.

C. M. FERRIN, Secretary.
Essex Junction, Vt.

CALLED TO BELGIUM

Former St. Johnsbury Boy to Help in Distribution of Aid to War Victims.

California papers announce that Prof. Frank P. Brackett, head of the astronomical department of Pomona College at Claremont, Cal., is one of the eight Americans appointed to assist in the distribution of supplies for the suffering Belgians and is already on the ocean in the pursuit of his errand. He will serve for six months, returning in time to resume his duties as professor of astronomy for the second semester which begins the first of January.

Prof. Brackett is the first Southern Californian to be called. He has been prominently identified with Pomona College since its beginning and has been an important factor in the development of Pomona's standards of scholarship and character. He is professor of mathematics and of astronomy, and, during the past year in the absence of Dean Norton has been acting dean of the college. He has so impressed his life on the college that the handsome astronomical observatory on the college grounds was named the Frank P. Brackett Observatory in his honor.

A few years ago, on invitation, he accompanied the director of the Astrophysical Observatory of the Smithsonian Institution on an astronomical expedition to Algeria. He issues a quarterly publication of the Astronomical Society of Pomona College. Prof. Brackett was a resident of St. Johnsbury through the seventies, when his father, Solomon L. Brackett, was at the head of the science department of our Academy, is himself a graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy and is well remembered by the students of that period.

ST. J. ACADEMY, CLASS OF 1910, HOLDS ANNUAL REUNION

The class of 1910 of St. Johnsbury Academy held its annual reunion and banquet at the St. Johnsbury house Saturday night.

After a fine menu served by the house the class adjourned to the upper piazza of the hotel where the class roll was called. The 13 members who were present responded to their names while those who were unable to be present had sent letters which were read by the secretary.

The invited guests of the class were Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wood and Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Benedict. The class informally re-elected the following officers: President, Miss Ethel McGill; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Walter.

SHOT SONG BIRDS.

Ambrogio Boccardi Fined $15— Claimed They Ate Mrs. Costa's Berries.

Ambrogio Boccardi of St. Johnsbury was arraigned before Judge Frye in the municipal court Friday morning on a charge of shooting song birds. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs of $7.

It seems that he was employed by a Mrs. Costa who has a fine berry patch in her garden. But the birds have picked the berries about as quick as they ripened. A number of ways had been tried to frighten them away but with no results. Mrs. Costa then told Boccardi to shoot them, which he did. A complaint was sent to Commissioner Titcomb of Lyndonville who had the defendant arrested and fined.

The birds doing the damage were cedar waxwings.

FOR GREATER VERMONT

Churches Throughout the State Hold Appropriate Services—Local Congregationalists on Next Sunday.

Vermont Sunday was observed in part by the churches of St. Johnsbury and while not following the order of service published by the Greater Vermont association for that purpose, the day was given recognition, as the sermons preached were of a patriotic nature and dwelt upon the past history of Vermont and the future prosperity of the state.

Among the churches to observe the day was the Grace Methodist Episcopal Rev. Mr. Martin, in his morning service spoke on the subject "The Spirit of Vermont," and gave a very interesting and patriotic version of the Vermont spirit of today.

Rev. C. L. Eaton at the Church of the Messiah gave the day a prominent place in his morning service and spoke of the past history of the state and its significance in the future.

Vermont day will be observed by the North and South Congregational services in a union meeting next Sunday at the South church. The original plans could not be carried out owing to the absence from town of Rev. Mr. Richards.

The plans for the Vermont Sunday were originated by the Greater Vermont association who sent out copies of the service to be used by the pastors of churches in all towns of the state.

In 85 towns and cities of the state, churches showed their willingness to co-operate for the day's observance by requesting copies of the service to be used. Many others not using the service intended to address on subjects relating to the history of Vermont or to some base or problem of creating public spirit and securing civic and military service.

ADDRESSES GRADUATING NURSES

Dr. Allen Speaks at Rutland Hospital On Profession.

Rutland, June 29.—Dr. J. M. Allen of St. Johnsbury gave some excellent advice to the five young women who received diplomas from the nurse's training course of the Rutland hospital, mentioning in particular the shortcomings he had discovered in trained nurses in his 35 years of experience. The address was the feature of the commencement exercises held at the institution, over 100 relatives and friends of the girls being present.

Emerson-Powers.

Walter W. Powers and Miss Carrie B. Emerson, both of St. Johnsbury, were married Thursday by Rev. George A. Martin, pastor of Grace Methodist church, at the parsonage. They were attended by the immediate relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers have gone to Wolcott, Vt., for a wedding trip and on their return will reside at 8 Belvidere street.

FISHERMEN PAY FINES.

Wheelock Man For Short Fish and George Simpson Has No License.

Two cases for the violation of the fish and game law were heard before Judge C. C. Frye in the municipal court Wednesday morning.

G. W. Wheeler of Wheelock, on the complaint of Game Warden Will Peck, was arraigned on a charge of fishing without a license and of having short fish in his possession. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs of $6.50.

George Simpson of St. Johnsbury was also held on a charge of fishing without a license and was fined $25 and costs of $6.50.

Episcopal S. S. Picnic.
The Sunday school of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon in Peck's woods. Automobiles carried the school to the woods and return. A regular old fashioned picnic dinner was served and everyone enjoyed themselves fifth games and athletic events in the afternoon.

The picnic was under the management of the St. Margaret Guild, who made ample arrangements for the fine day that was enjoyed by all.

Clover Without Chemicals.

One of the best, if not the best, pieces of clover in this county can be seen on the farm of George M. Gray on the main road between here and Passumpsic. It is ready to harvest as soon as weather permits and is a sight that would satisfy any good farmer. Mr. Gray says not a pound of chemicals was used on the ground and the heavy cover is one of the best demonstrations we have seen of what good farming on good ground will produce. Any farmer interested in increasing his production of forage will do well to see this fine field on Mr. Gray's farm.

Bishop Bliss at St. Andrew's.
Bishop G. Y. Bliss of Burlington delivered the sermons at the morning and evening services in the St. Andrew's Episcopal church Sunday. The bishop also delivered the communion service and administered the holy communion at the morning service.

His subject for the morning service was "The Christian's Honor," and in the afternoon he spoke in the church at Concord from the subject, "Faith and Practice."

Admiral Ide a Visitor Here.

Admiral George Elmore Ide of New York City stopped in St. Johnsbury Tuesday on his way to Bretton Woods, N. H. He stopped at the St. Johnsbury house and in the evening was a guest at the home of Hon. H. C. Ide.

Admiral Ide is on the retired list of the United States navy but for years was one of the chief officers of the naval staff, being in command under Dewey at Manila. Admiral Ide's father was of Lyndon.

CARRANZA'S REPLY RECEIVED TUESDAY

In the Hands of Arredondo and Awaits Presentation to Sec. Lansing Today—Verbal Synopsis Given Out at the Mexican Embassy Indicates That It Is Of An Unexpected Conciliatory Character—Ambassador Himself Refuses To Discuss the Reply

SPECIFIC STATEMENT STILL LACKING

On the Demands of the United States For a Formal Declaration of Intentions As To the American Expeditionary Force—It Was Not Possible to Judge From Synopsis Given Out Last Night Whether or Not the Reply Would Be Satisfactory To President Wilson—Mexicans Display Flag On Their Public Buildings In Honor of U. S. Independence Day

Washington, July 4.—Gen. Carranza's formal reply to the two sharp notes he has received from the Washington government regarding the situation on the border and in Northern Mexico was at the Mexican embassy here tonight, awaiting presentation to Sec. Lansing tomorrow morning by Arredondo. It arrived by telegraph early in the day and only the fact that the Fourth of July was being celebrated by all official departments prevented its delivery.

A verbal synopsis of the communication made public by the embassy attaches with the approval of Arredondo indicates that it is of an unexpected conciliatory character.

The ambassador himself spent the day in the country and on his return excused himself from any discussion of his government's attitude as now officially stated. Lacking the text of the note it was impossible tonight to state whether it would prove satisfactory to Pres. Wilson. Since the release of the United States soldiers made prisoner at Carrizal, the question at issue has been narrowed to Mr. Wilson's desire for a formal declaration of intentions as to the American expeditionary forces in Mexico.

The embassy's synopsis of the new note indicates that a specific statement is still lacking.

U. V. M. COMMENCEMENT.

Ruth Browne Adams and Lindol French Among Graduates.

(Special to The Caledonian.)

Burlington, June 29.—The University of Vermont conferred degrees on a class of 91, 14 of whom are medics, yesterday morning at the 112th commencement exercises held in the university gymnasium. Ruth Browne Adams and Lindol French of St. Johnsbury were among the graduates.

The honorary degrees conferred were as follows: M. A., Jean A. C. Bull of Whitford, Pa.; LL.D., Alexander Meiklejohn, president of Amherst college; LL.D., George Harvey of New York, editor of the North American Review; L. H. D., Darwin P. Kingsley, of New York, class of 1881, president of the New York Life Insurance Co.; LL.D., Francis Farrell of the class of 1886, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Sc.D., Dr. Fred H. Albee of New York; M. A., I. G. Sargent of Paterson, N. J.; and LL.D., Charles P. Smith of Burlington, treasurer of the university.

The Hon. Darwin P. Kingsley delivered the commencement address.

Following the exercises the corporation dinner was held at the Van Ness House, attended by a large gathering. Col. George Harvey delivering the principal address.

In the evening the senior class held its annual boat ride to Bluff Point, N. Y., where they enjoyed a dance at the Hotel Champlain, returning at day-break.

BARTON.

Funeral of Little Francis Hastings— Other Local Items.

(F. H. Pillsbury, Correspondent.)
The funeral of little Francis Hastings, who was killed in an automobile accident on Friday afternoon, while driving with his father, was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Hastings, Sunday afternoon. The services, which were private, were conducted by Rev. W. A. Warner and the interment was in the Welcome O. Brown cemetery here. The doctor and Mrs. Hastings have the sympathy of every person in town. "Billy," the name by which most everyone knew the little chap, was one of those sunny little fellows whose constant smile won everybody.

A large number of Barton people will go to Newport to celebrate the Fourth if the weather permits. The two ball games scheduled seem to be the objective of most of our young men.

W. W. Carter has returned from Boston where he has been the past week. While there Mr. Carter went to Framingham and there saw the Massachusetts regiments preparing to entrain. Mr. Carter was able to see his former chauffeur, Norman Stebbins, and bid him good-bye. Stebbins left in the 2d Regiment of Massachusetts infantry.

At a school meeting Friday night, June 30, J. F. Batchelder was elected to the board of trustees in place of C. E. Hamblet, who refused to serve any longer.

Slayton Lang returned from Burlington Saturday by way of Greensboro and automobile stage. Mr. Lang has been a pupil at U. V. M. and also kept on with his music the past year. He had the opportunity to go to Mexico with one of the bands.

Clyde Heath has gone to Burlington where he will play ball with the Queen City team.

George Davis and family from Pasadena, Cal., arrived here Saturday. They will make their home at the Davis cottage in Lake Grove, where they have spent the summers, with one exception, since taking up their permanent residence in California.

Thomas Crow of Boston is spending several days at Hotel Barton, where he is visiting his brother-in-law, James Rowen, and other old-time friends.

Miss Eva Rosebrooks of West Burke is the guest of Miss Martha Burdick.

prizes for new subscribers to his stirring little sheet. Among the premiums offered is an automobile, a piano, three diamond rings, to say nothing of kodaks and orders for merchandise from local stores. Such splendid offers as these ought to develop a rivalry that will shake up things in the scale town and give to the Caledonian its coveted list of 5000 subscribers.—Springfield Reporter.

GEN. GREENE PAYS HIGH COMPLIMENT TO VT. REGT.

Eagle Pass, Texas, July 3.—The first Vermont infantry was complimented today by Gen. H. A. Greene on the way it had laid out its camp. Special care was taken as to sanitary precautions and the camp gave evidence that it would be a model.

Sustains Fractured Arm.

Mrs. Hattie V. Taylor, mother of Frank C. Taylor of Lyndon, and living at the home of G. M. Spencer, in Paddock Village fell from the piazza Friday morning and sustained a fractured arm, and injuries to the head that necessitated her removal to the St. Johnsbury hospital.
